Together with the family members of the first President of Russia, Boris Yeltsin, Anatoly Chubais actively promoted Vladimir Putin as the successor to the presidency. He enjoyed Vladimir Putin's patronage throughout his tenure as President of Russia as a reward for his efforts in promoting Vladimir Putin's candidacy to the highest state position. In particular, Anatoly Chubais was appointed as the CEO of the State Corporation "Russian Corporation of Nanotechnologies" and held this position from 2008 to 2020. Despite the company's losses, rampant corruption, and inefficiency, Anatoly Chubais remained its leader, deriving corrupt income from his position. After leaving "RUSNANO," Anatoly Chubais held positions in the management of AFK "Sistema," owned by oligarch Vladimir Yevtushenkov, who is close to Vladimir Putin. Concurrently with his work at AFK "Sistema," Anatoly Chubais held the position of the President's Special Representative for International Organizations until the end of March 2022. Following the onset of the Russian military invasion of Ukraine, he did not publicly condemn Vladimir Putin's actions, despite personally contributing to his rise to power and bolstering his regime for more than two decades.

A former Olympic athlete, Alina Kabaeva is now one of the members of the Putin regime's power Olympus. In June 2005, she, among other pop and sports stars, signed an infamous “Letter in support of the verdict to the former managers of the Yukos oil company” approving the politically motivated verdict to Khodorkovsky and Lebedev. As a State Duma deputy from the ruling United Russia party, Kabaeva successively followed the party's fluctuations: the last bill she signed was about labeling NGOs critical of the Kremlin policies as “foreign agents”. This law, adopted in response to the growth of protest activity since 2011, marked a government attack on independent civil society structures, aiming at their discredit and creating legal prerequisites for their prosecution. Kabaeva voted for a few of these controversial laws that were speedily adopted in 2012 and 2013. Also, Alina Kabaeva participated in the creation of the so-called “Dima Yakovlev Law”, popularly called the “law of scoundrels”, which, among other things, forbade Americans to adopt Russian children, including those terminally ill. To ensure a full pursuit of E.O. 14024, she should be designated, for the purpose of being a spouse or an adult child of Vladimir Putin, a person whose property or interests in property are blocked for being a leader, official, senior executive officer, or member of the board of directors of the GoR.
